Escape Route Of "Invaders" In Greece Cut

Greek Troops In Encircling Movement Endangering Some 3,500 Guerrillas

SAY "INVADERS" UNDER HEAVY FIRE (BULLETIN)

ATHENS, July 15.—(INS)—The escape route of Communist-inspired "invaders" in northern Greece was cut off by reinforced Greek troops in an encircling movement today. Some 3,500 guerrillas were endangered.

With fighting still under way in the region of Kalpaki north of Kozinata where a second invasion force allegedly springing from Albania struck at the important town of Ioannina, official sources said that Greek army forces now hold the upper hand entirely.

A statement said they have occupied all key positions and can maintain control in any eventuality by the guerrilla drive which was reported backed by insurgents wearing Communist arm bands and Soviet insignia.

Under Heavy Fire

Since then the invaders north of Ioannina were said to have been under "heavy fire" from two sides, with their retreat to the Albanian frontier completed severally by surrounding tactics.

It was understood that Vice-Premier Constantin Tsaldaris, who now is in New York, and Minister of the Interior Alexander Papandreou, who is in Paris, have been recalled to Athens.

An urgent call was said to have gone out "in view of the beginning of an undeniably serious crisis."

Government quarters said that "all responsible elements" of the Pa Newc noted a resident taking a sun-bath on the top of a sloping porch roof, on one of the North hill streets, recently. The sun was apparently doing its work, but the position seemed a bit precarious for the sun-bather.

Quite a number of the old street designation signs which were attached to houses at street intersections of the city many, many years ago still exist. One of the signs for a long time at the intersection of East Washington and Court streets pointed out Pittsburgh street, the former name of New Castle's main artery there.

Street lights in the Butler avenue area were burning brightly at 1:15 p.m. on Monday, it was discovered by Pa Newc in a visit to that area. Evidently the lighting system was being tested by power company employees.

It would have been possible to take a boat ride through the streets of New Castle, late Monday afternoon. A large cabin yacht was being transported overland toward the east, apparently being brought from the area of Detroit. Going through the city on a truck, over route 422, the yacht attracted a lot of attention.

Camp meetings throughout the district are attracting many city dwellers to the camp sites throughout the tri-state area. One of the largest camps located at Mahaffey, Pa., in Clearfield county, will open on Friday. Annually 5000 make their temporary abode on the camp grounds with an average of 18,000 attending the Sunday services.

Treasury Head To Make Public Letters On Loan

Believed Exchange Of Letters Will Clarify Terms Of Loan To Great Britain

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder is expected to make public within the next 24 hours an exchange of letters clarifying terms of the $3,750,000 U. S. loan to Britain.

Responsible sources said the exchange resulted from Snyder's request to Hugh Dalton, British chancellor of the exchequer, for information on a number of controversial points which have developed as a result of continuing economic stress in the United Kingdom.

Snyder asked Dalton to state the British position on the requirements effective at the expiration of the first year of the loan, particularly the dollar-sterling "convertibility" clause.

Britain thus far has drawn $2,000,000 of the loan. Under the original terms it was anticipated that the three and three-quarter billion dollars would cover a four-year period.

But high prices and Britain's inability to effect an economic recovery as quickly as had been hoped combined to cause a heavy rate of withdrawal.

said the committee plans a "vigorous inquiry into what he termed 'rumors'." He said:

"We will make a vigorous inquiry into these sources of information, particularly those saying that in spite of what we say there still are bad things happening at Oak Ridge."

Contradicts Announcement

Meanwhile, Hickenerlooper contradicted a mysterious announcement that the atomic committee of five saying that three newspapermen would be summoned for an open hearing today, along with the former Manhattan district commander, Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, and Rep. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J., chairman of the House Un-American Activities Investigating committee.

Hickenerlooper denied having authorized such an announcement, and said he "had no knowledge" of plans to call the five witnesses.

The newspapermen named in the "announcement" as witnesses were Edward Nellor of the New York Sun, author of the story last week saying that important documents were stolen from Oak Ridge, and Frank Waldrop, editorial columnist, and James Walter, reporter, for the Washington Times-Herald.

Hickenerlooper said he originally had contemplated a meeting today but said a two-hour session last night supplanted it.

Asked if other members of his committee turned down his plan for an open hearing to the "rumors" and their sources, Hickenerlooper reported that "there was no vote."

Proposals Presented

The United States, it continued, is opposed to any excessively centralized government which by concentration of power, may threaten democracy in Germany and the security of Germany's neighbors.

Other points covered in the directive are:

1. The policy of authorizing and encouraging all political parties whose programs demonstrate allegiance to democratic principles is to be continued.

2. The jurisdiction of German courts shall be extended to all cases which do not involve the interests of military government or subject to that government's protective care.

3. In cooperation with the international refugee organization Clay is directed to help in the repatriation of persons wishing to be repatriated and to facilitate the movement to other countries of persons unwilling to be repatriated.

4. The Germans are to be supervised, encouraged and assisted in establishing means of public information designed to advance the political and cultural objectives set forth in the directive.

It was apparent that most of the Eastern governors believe that the states should abandon income taxes leaving that field exclusively to the federal government.

They also were of the opinion that the federal government should in turn allow the states exclusive rights of such levies as amusement, inheritance, gift and admission taxes.

Some of the eastern governors also thought that the states should have a clear field with respect to gasoline and alcoholic beverages.

regime should be in Athens in order that any eventuality can be faced without delay.

During the late afternoon, the government published an order forbidding issue of passports to all Greeks males between the ages of 21 and 35.

Purpose Not Clear

(Editor's Note: Purpose of this order was not made clear in first dispatches. It might have been designed to check possible desertions to the Communist side, but the banning of passports to men of military service age in Europe sometimes has been a prelude to general mobilization.)

Declaring that the situation was "greatly improved," an official government statement revealed that the guerrilla advance had been halted and encircling movement about the invaders begun by regular army forces.

The invaders consist of Abian troops and civilians, Greek Leftists guerrillas and an "international brigade," similar to the Communist volunteers who fought in the Spanish Civil War.

Battle-toughened Grecian soldiers managed to secure positions partly encircling the guerrillas, and poured a heavy cross-fire into the pocket of invaders.

VERNA TURK AND K. E. NEWTON WED

Second U. P. church was the scene of a pretty wedding July 12 when Miss Verna Turk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Turk, 1703 Wilson avenue, was united in marriage to Kenneth Eugene Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Newton, 609 East Long avenue. In the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives, Rev. J. Calvin Rose officiated at the ceremony which took place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a white embroidered marquisette gown, fashioned with long sleeves and bustle back, trimmed with ruffles. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of orange blossoms. Her flowers were white gladioli, arranged in an arm bouquet.

Miss Ann Turk, dressed in an orchid marquisette gown, was maid of honor. Miss Hazel Newton and Mrs. Frances Kwolek of Alquippa, attired respectively in blue and pink marquisette, served as bridesmaids. The attendants carried arm bouquets of blue delphinium and gladioli.

John Ritchie was best man for Mr. Newton, while James Turk and Michael Kwolek, Alquippa, acted as ushers.

The open church ceremony was performed before an altar which was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns. Nuptial music was offered preceding and during the exchange of vows by Mrs. Clayton Cranner, organist. Mrs. James Barnes, accompanied by the organist, offered "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" as vocal solos.

Later a reception for 80 guests took place at the Newton home, where refreshments were served buffet style from a table, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. Stephen Scott and Mrs. James Turk were sides.

ROSS BRIDENBAUGH WEDS IN DETROIT

At a wedding solemnized in Narlin Park Methodist church, of Detroit, Mich., Joseph Ross Bridenbaugh, of Arlington, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Bridenbaugh, 108 Edison avenue, took for his bride Miss Betty Aiken Morrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hugh Morrell, of Detroit, Mich. The double ring ceremony was conducted on Saturday, July 12 at 5 p. m. with Dr. Marshall R. Reed officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a street-length dress of silver gray satin with a bustle back and cap sleeves. She wore a matching gray satin hat with pink veiling and long pink gloves. Her bridal corsage was a pink orchid. Miss Betty Bridenbaugh, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, wearing a powder blue crepe dress with cap sleeves contrasted beautifully with the bride. She also wore long gloves of gray with gray accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds.

Captain William Chip, formerly of New Castle, now of Indianapolis, Ind., served the bridegroom as best man. Ushering were Carl Benson and Robert J. Morrell, brother of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony a fifteen minute period of appropriate nuptial music was played by the church organist, Dr. Robert Worth. He accompanied his son, Howard Worth, who sang "At Dawnings" and "Because". At the close of the ceremony he sang "O Perfect Love".

Troubles Galore In Atomic Power Control

WASHINGTON, July 15.—One day last week a three-bank banner headline in the New York Sun said: "Atom Bomb Secrets Stolen From Plant at Oak Ridge by Agents Not Yet Identified". It was as big a headline as was carried at the time of the atom bombing of Hiroshima. The story was promptly denied by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, by Senator Hickenlooper, chairman of the joint Senate and House atomic energy committee, and by the atomic energy commission. They said the story was untrue in the particular charge and in detail.

Examining the origin of the story and its consequences I have talked with members of the Senate-House committee, members of the atomic energy commission and officials charged with security and investigation. The facts are summarized in this and a following column.

Removed to 1946

The documents in question were removed from the atomic laboratory at Los Alamos, New Mexico, by two Army sergeants in March, 1946. That was while the Army was responsible for secrecy and security. It was not until January 1, 1947, that the new civilian commission assumed control and began to be responsible for security.

Under the law, responsibility for investigation of security and secrecy was delegated to J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI. The commission asked Hoover to tighten security regulations.

His job was made more difficult by the fact that Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who was head of the project for the Army, was not helpful in the transition stage. Until almost the end of Army control, FBI agents were not permitted to visit areas in Oak Ridge unless accompanied by military guard.

Discovered Thefts

In the course of tightening security regulations, Hoover's men discovered the thefts that had occurred under Army control. The atomic energy commission requested a thorough investigation by the FBI.

The theft was traced to the two former sergeants. They were questioned at great length. The documents were recovered and restored to secret files. The FBI was convinced that the two men wanted

STILL AT IT

The world has not yet recovered from the French Revolution. That affair certainly did upset things, not only for France but for every nation then in existence in Europe and for every nation all over the world ever since.

The tattered diplomats, as the Paris mob was designated, were the original Communists and were led by just such men as Stalin, Danton and Robespierre were only prototypes of men like Lenin and Tito. Before the French Revolution occurred, the great men of the world were its kings, princes and cabinet ministers, or the Capitalists, as they would be called by the New Dealers today. With the French Revolution came the aspiring leaders of the mob. The royal family of France had abused their power and caused so much misery among the "have-nots" that the time was ripe when the mob besieged the Bastille and forced their way into that great fortress. And drunk with power with which they found themselves possessed, they proceeded to eliminate, as far as possible, not only the King and Queen, but all of the nobility of France, good, bad and indifferent.

Stopped By Napoleon

The story of the years following the overthrow of the King was a terrible story, only stopped by the genius of the little artillery officer from Corsica—Napoleon Bonaparte. His military genius led a very clever people to the King's seat in European history, and that endured until Waterloo. France never recovered. It was the same old story—those who followed Napoleon only

THE MAN IN THE MOON

All the hair tonics and hair restorers and hair growers might be put in a rocket and sent to the moon. They might do as much good there as they do here. The man in the moon might use them.

People spend a lot of money trying to do impossible things.

Up to date no remedy has been found which will prevent it either.

There is no remedy to prevent hair from turning gray. There is not anything which will restore gray hair to its original color.

Anyhow, bald-headed men seem to get along pretty well after they stop worrying about it.

Gray hair is no disgrace if it is kept clean and tidy.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BALANCED PROGRAM IN SUMMER

It appears that during the long summer vacation children of elementary school age read fewer books than while attending school. They also may take vacation from Sunday school and church, even vacation from work about the home. How absurd!

Such hardly could happen with children if their parents took a more serious responsibility for the best development of their children educationally, morally and spiritually. Moreover, children well guided at home in a balanced program can be happier if it allowed to drift into more less aimless ways of spending the long days of the summer months.

Good Reading Habits

Today I wish to entreat my fellow parents to cultivate good reading habits in their children during the summer. Go with your toddler to your local public library, if one is available. Help him find some books whose pictures make him want you or an older brother or sister to read from these books. (My list of selected books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

The older child can give the baby brother or sister a vast amount of useful enjoyment by reading to this tot for a period once or several times daily. And it can be fun for the reader as well as the eager listener. Besides, the reader will improve his own reading skill. If he happens to be a poor reader the practice will be the best possible way for him to become a much better reader. I can think of no better way to help a slow reader. Even the best tutor might not do so much for his reading progress.

Some Older Children

I know of some older children, even of high school age, who attract a number of tots in the block to a shade tree or to their home and read daily to the group. See the good these youths can do.

Go with your child from six to twelve to the library, or induce him to go alone, to borrow books to read. Show interest in his reading then. Listen raptly as he relates what he has enjoyed reading. Sometimes you and he should enjoy reading together.

In some instances, you may do well to require the child from seven to twelve or fourteen to read from a good book for a brief period each day. Once the habit is well begun it may easily carry on without your requirements. A selected list of books from this age range is also available in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

One parking space is required for every three workers in industrial plants, according to a recent survey.

For a set of teeth worth while,

See your dentist!

For the beauty of your smile,

See your dentist!

Heed the warning loud and clear

On the radio shows you hear,

To remember:

See your dentist!

For Me To You

By MESEEALL

It isn't anything serious . . . and probably won't be a bit of interest to many folks who do the reading . . . that is the comment on the exhibit that is now on display on the main street of New Castle.

The Marine Corps League has brought to town a trailer loaded with personal belongings that once adorned the person and surroundings of tubby Hermie Goering the right hand man to the little squirt that caused so much heartache . . . Hitler. The articles that are on display are very interesting and you should really look 'em over.

* * *

The part that amuses us is the part about who collected the items on display. The Marines of course were not in Austria . . . but the sign declares that the 101st Airborne Division captured the stuff . . . well now that might sound O.K. to some but we happen to know a wee bit about the capture of Berchtesgaden . . . being a member of the Battalion that did the actual occupation.

* * *

On May 5th, 1945, at about three thirty in the afternoon the 2nd and 3rd Battalions of the 7th Regiment of the 3rd Division entered the town limits of the little Austrian town of Berchtesgaden. Some thousand German soldiers, officers and men, were taken prisoner. By 8 o'clock that evening our chaplains were holding church services in the town church which we remember as being very beautiful. Across the valley from the main part of town . . . Hitler's hideaway home was burning, having been set afire by German soldiers a few hours before we arrived . . . It was in this town that the items on display were found.

* * *

The 101st Airborne arrived in the village on the 6th of May . . . coming up through the mountains from the south. It is amusing to see how the signs read . . . 101st Airborne captures Hermie Goering's effects.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I hope you won't mind if I go on telling you about our trip to Hollywood to get out as quickly as possible to John P. Medbury's funeral.

As I told you yesterday, he was my best friend and he died.

So there was only one thing to do—get out west without a minute's delay, not only to do him the last honors but also to be at the side of his wife who had become just as much a part of ourselves as Johnny.

(And I do feel that it can talk to you about it, although it is a personal matter, because I know that you, my readers, and I are friends—and don't you tell your friends about your sorrows? I have hundreds of letters that prove that you come to me when you feel sad, so why shouldn't I come to you? And, furthermore, you have friends who are dear to you and who may pass away some day. So I feel that I am not only unloading my heart to you, but I want to give you a little idea of what happens when life, all of a sudden, ceases to be just routine and becomes a thunderstorm.)

Well, yesterday was Sunday and everything was closed.

My wife and I had less than a hundred dollars between us, but that made no difference. We had no house check blanks and they'd have to do.

I called up the airlines to get a couple of seats on any Los Angeles plane—but there was not a seat to be had.

And by the way, it may interest you to know that, in spite of what you hear about people being scared to travel by plane on account of the recent accidents, every plane goes out full, and the only way to get on without advance reservation, is to go out to the airport, stick around until five minutes before the plane leaves and take a chance on a "no-show", which means that you get on if somebody who made a reservation doesn't show up.

Well, that's just what we did.

We got on one of the American Airlines' big new DC-6's and left the New York airport at a quarter after midnight and arrived in Los Angeles 11 hours and five minutes later.

Imagine that, if you will—11 hours from New York to Los Angeles!

The whole continent spanned in less than half a day—in five hours less than it takes the fastest train to go from New York to Chicago, in less time than it takes to drive from New York to Pittsburgh by automobile; in less time than it takes you to read your Sunday papers, eat your three meals and listen to a few of your favorite radio programs!

In those 11 hours we saw more of America than the average person sees in a lifetime.

We traveled 18,000 feet above sea level, much of the way above the clouds.

We went through several violent thunderstorms and the lightning

"Universal Training"

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—So far there's been a minimum of insults given and received over the universal training bill, but if I disagree with people who call this lack of heat a lack of interest. If relatively few hotheads have called each other "pacificist" and "militarist" it is not because nobody cares but because nobody seems to have raised the real issue.

Arguments to date centered upon a central theme—a deep and sincere desire for peace. Universal training either will or won't promote that high purpose. And the reason why the bill seems destined to die by default is because arguments have come to a deadlock with no real proof on either side.

Use Of Deadlock

It is a deadlock caused by weakness and not by strength. Public opinion, always reflected in congressional action or lack of action, simply has not tumbled for the idea that a twelve-month course for teenage males would make soldiers out of the trainees or would create a useful standing army. There are too many GI's around who know that you can't do that in a year. And you can't simulate in peacetime the necessary urgency and got-to that goes into getting ready for war.

The American boy is nothing if not an expert smeller-out of hokum. A few weeks in camp and he'd be chanting the slogans of his elder brother about Eleanor hating war and Over the Hill in October. The only preventative would be to stir up a phony state of alarm or to indoctrinate youth with the emotional patriotism of our late enemies. Both ideas are unthinkable to Americans.

Not Insurance Against War

Moreover, it is hard to shrug off one anti-training argument of the group headed by old Joseph Daniels and the young intellectual Robert M. Hutchins. This group took the view that military strength in peacetime is not insurance against war but is quite the reverse.

There is a lot of history on the side of this one.

The most "prepared" nations in World War II were Germany, Japan, France and Italy. All were defeated.

The most "unprepared" were Great Britain and the United States. These were the only combat powers on whose soil no invader laid a foot.

Fact is, the best way to achieve wartime potential is to cultivate a prosperous and productive peacetime economy. Busy factories and teaming farmlands have it all over Maginot lines and garrison soldiers. Our own Civil

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 15.—(INS)—You can expect anything to happen in Hollywood, so don't let newcomer Michael North's recent experience disturb you.

As the result of a tonsil operation, Mike has a much more appealing voice.

Said Mike: "Isn't it the darndest thing? My voice is quite some deeper. I never heard of anything like that happening before."

It caused a few complications for Michael Curtis, to whom Mike is under personal contract.

They had shot part of North's scenes for "The Unsuspected", so when he came out of the hospital with a new voice they had to do them all over again.

Mike expects to go into another Curtis production in September and meanwhile he's enjoying himself. He feels much better since the tonsilectomy.

The doctor told me they were in very bad condition and that they should have been removed 20 years ago.

They're trying to get Don before to go to Detroit for a play next month but he'll probably say no.

Don's still busy in Curtis' latest production, "Romance in High C."

Bus Extension Hearings Set

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—(INS)—Once a newspaper boy, then a store clerk, Levy Anderson now runs the greatest bargain sales in the world.

He has millions of dollars worth of items for sale and every day you see advertisements about the gigantic clearance sales he operates.

But he can not purchase one item from the huge stockpile of merchandise he offers for sale. The reason—he is regional director of the War Assets Administration and the law will not allow him to buy any of the goods he sells for the government.

The extensions are now in use, temporary permission having been granted by the PUC some time ago.

"BRIGHT" PUPILS MAY BE NEGLECTED

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 15.—(INS)—If your children are gifted mentally, the chances are that they are being neglected at school.

So claims Dr. Miriam Pritchard, head of the psychology department at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn.

The reason, she told a psychology institute at Pennsylvania State college, was that so-called "bright" youngsters learn easily and reflect credit on their teachers and consequently do not receive the attention less fortunate children do.

When Thomas Blanchard, noted inventor, was a farm boy, he didn't like farm work and spent most of his time whittling small figures out of wood. He whistled a monotonous tune while he worked, and when he talked he stuttered. People thought he was simple.

Send Pictures Of Man Hunted In Marion Crime

MARION, O., July 15.—(INS)—Photographs of Edwin D. Young, the 36-year-old ex-convict sought for the strangulation murder of a Marion divorcee, were sent today to New York State police.

Sheriff Leroy Retterer said that one of the few tangible clues turned up in the hunt for the alleged slayer of Mrs. Zora Gerbes, 25-year-old mother of three children, was the request for the photos by New York authorities.

Police there reported that Wade E. Philpott, 26, of Elmira, N. Y., had been shot and seriously wounded by a hatchet he had picked up near Ada, O. New York authorities apparently planned to ask Philpott if he could identify Young as his assailant.

Services were held late yesterday in Marion for Mrs. Gerbes, whose body, clad only in a short suit jacket, was found trussed up with clothesline in a rural churchyard seven miles from the city last Friday.

Man Arrested For Felonious Shooting

AMBIDGE, Pa., July 15.—(INS)—Leroy Norton of nearby Fair Oaks was under arrest charged with felonious assault today following the shooting and wounding of two men on an Ambridge street.

Police said William Christy, 33, of Fair Oaks, suffered a slight head wound, and William Alston, 25, of Aliquippa, a minor wrist wound when Norton fired at them.

Officers said Christy and Norton had argued while at work at the American Bridge Co., over a pair of overalls. Alston was merely a bystander when the shooting occurred.

Pennsylvania Helps In Clothing Relief

NEW WINDSOR, Md.—Pennsylvania ranks second in the amount of clothing for overseas relief sent to the Church World Service Center, New Windsor, Md., it is learned in figures just released from the center. During the first half of 1947, Pennsylvanians contributed $39,203 pounds of used clothing to the cause.

North Carolina topped the list of donors with 493,682 pounds. More than a million pounds of clothing came into the center in May and June.

Gromyko Still Declines To Give Any Estimate

(BULLETIN)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 15.—(INS)—Andrei Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, refused today—for the third time—to submit a Russian estimate of the size of the proposed international police force to maintain world peace.

The United States, Great Britain and France have given their separate estimates and, with China, concurring in the British figures, Russia stands alone in saying "no" to an estimate.

Gromyko went a step farther. He opposed a proposal submitted to the Security Council by Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan suggesting that the council instruct the military staff committee to make a recommendation on the figure of the overall strength of the proposed U. N. armed forces.

Arrests Made On
Loitering Charge

Two more young men who gave the names of Ralph Largo and Phillip Mike, of the South Side, were arrested on Long avenue by Policemen Bartoshek and Tewell at 10:40 p. m. Monday on a charge of loitering. On Saturday night, three men were arrested on a similar charge.

According to Policeman Bartoshek, the pair were loitering in front of a restaurant at Long avenue and Mill street. He ordered them to move several times but he claims they did not, but entered a restaurant.

He called a cruiser car and with Policeman Tewell arrested both.

In police court today, Mayor John F. Haven ordered Police Chief Robert D. Hanna to make information against them, also the other three (Joe Nocera, Frank Isabell and Giulio Filigenza) before Alderman James C. Brice, stating:

"Anything I would do in these cases, outside of deciding against the police, would be considered political, hence I'm turning the cases over to an alderman to decide."

Leases Terminate On War Housing Properties Here

FPHA Gives Owners Opportunity To Recover Possession On Converted Properties

Twenty-one owners of private residential properties in New Castle, leased to the Government during the war for conversion into war housing, have terminated or are negotiating termination of their leases. John A. Kervick, director, region II, said today.

Property owners are given, by the Federal Public Housing Authority, the opportunity to recover immediate possession by purchase of unexpired lease contracts and agreeing that veterans will be given preference for vacancies as they occur. The rights of present tenants under OPA regulations on rents and occupancy also must be respected.

Five Terminated

The 21 conversions completed to date in this locality, 5 leases have been terminated it was stated by Service Manager Peoples Realty company, and the remaining 16 leases are under negotiation or are to be negotiated.

The conversion program began in October, 1942 under the jurisdiction of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. Privately owned properties, including existing buildings, obsolete apartment houses, warehouses and even unused hospitals acquired under this lease plan were converted or remodeled.

Dean Of Women For Westminster

Miss Helen Louise Sittig Is Named To Important Post At College

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, July 15.—Miss Helen Louise Sittig has been appointed dean of women at Westminster College to succeed Miss Mary Jane Stevenson who resigned to accept a similar position at Bucknell University. The appointment is announced by President H. Lloyd Cleland.

Miss Sittig joined the Westminster College staff in 1943 as a residence director and has recently been serving as assistant dean of women. She will assume her new duties September 1.

The new dean is well qualified for the position. The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Sittig of New Wilmington, she attended Youngstown Rayen high school and was graduated from the Youngstown hospital of nursing in 1933. After attending Youngstown college for one year she enrolled at Westminster and was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1943, majoring in biology.

Miss Sittig has done graduate work at Columbia University and received a master of education degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1946.

She is an active member of the United Presbyterian church, teaching a Sunday school class and serving as secretary of the Young Women's Missionary Guild. She is affiliated with A. A. U. W., Youngstown Hospital Alumni Association, Pi Sigma Pi, Kappa Delta Pi and Beta Sigma Omicron.

LOOKING AT LIFE

gave us a little inkling of what Nature could do if she really got mad at that puny little bunch of insects called the human race.

We soared over mountains that looked like anthills, and we saw farms and mansions the size of matchboxes.

Human beings were entirely imperceptible, and automobiles seemed to be little mites crawling along the ground.

Long trains speeding along the rails at 60 miles an hour appeared to be worms crawling along the ground.

Fifteen minutes after midnight we had left the Atlantic ocean. Eleven hours later the Pacific in all its blue majesty lay before us, lighted up by the California sun which had just got out of bed.

Already thousands of people were heading for the beaches and a day of fun. But we had a date with death. But more of that date tomorrow.

WASHINGTON CALLING

the documents to be able to boast years later of the vital part they had played in the atomic project. There was no evidence that they had been in contact with agents seeking secret information about the bomb.

The investigation was completed on June 9 and the file sent to Attorney General Tom C. Clark, with a recommendation that the former sergeants be prosecuted. After consulting with Hoover about the progress of the investigation, Chairman David Lilienthal of the atomic commission informed the joint congressional committee on atomic energy in closed session of what had been learned.

Trace Lead

While they will not say it publicly, certain members of the congressional committee trace the lead to the Sun to Representative James E. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania. Van Zandt denies that he disclosed what he had learned at the secret session to anyone. He says he agrees with Chairman Hickenlooper's denial of the Sun story.

In an interview shortly after the Sun story was published, Van Zandt did disclose that among the documents taken from Los Alamos were photographic negatives. This greatly disturbed the FBI, because it would immediately stimulate foreign agents to search for such negatives.

One of the curious things about the Sun story is that parts of it closely paralleled an article sold to Liberty magazine by Representative J. Parnell Thomas, head of the House un-American activities committee. Some members of Congress link Thomas to the sensational Sun story.

Already On Street

No top official connected with atomic energy was asked about the accuracy of the Sun story prior to its publication. Less than half an hour before it was to appear, the information office of the atomic energy commission was asked if the commission had any comment. Before any reply could be given, another New York newspaper had telephoned to ask about the Sun story, which was then on the street.

No warrant had at that time been issued for the arrest of the two sergeants, who were still at liberty pending a final decision by the attorney general. Although they have since been taken into custody, the disclosure's effect at the time was to make the FBI's problem doubly difficult. But that's not the only consequence to come out of this strange development in the brief but troubled history of the attempt to control the power that is greater than any other power man has known.

but this is virtually the way Foreign Ministers Bevin and Bidault put it in emphasizing that "the door is still open" for participation by eastern European countries that for the present have turned their back on the United States Treasury and taxpayers.

The conference made it clear from the beginning just what handicaps the Soviet abstention entails. It cuts off from Western Europe the resources of Russia, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

But the delegates seem quite convinced they can work out a program so ultimately effective that the European east will climb on the bandwagon before it is too late.

Rooming Houses Are Still Under Rent Control

Rooming house establishments are still under federal rent control, C. Howard McPeak, area rent director of the Pittsburgh defense-rental area rent office, said today. Mr. McPeak explained that, "The Housing and Rent Act of 1947 does not lift rent controls from rooming houses, and rooming house operators are required by law to make and have made a more or less intelligent choice in their votes. All the polls of the voters made by the papers and by Dr. Gallup have in the last three years shown that they are very much in favor of the work of the Congress of the United States, and time will tell."

"BUZZING" PLANES, NOT FLYING DISCS WORRIES THIS MAN

TRENTON, N. J., July 15.—(INS)—George S. Burgess, a member of the state water policy and supply council, is not worried so much about the danger of being hit by a flying saucer. He is more concerned with the danger of low flying airplanes.

In a letter addressed to James M. Landis, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics board at Washington, Burgess complained there is no chance for relaxation on week ends.

Low flying planes operated by stuntsters are a constant menace and Burgess extended an invitation to Landis to visit with him on any week end and investigate existing conditions.

Pennsy Develops Three New Rails

Three new designs of heavy duty steel rail of greater strength and versatility, assuring safer operation, smoother riding and economy of maintenance, have been developed by the Pennsylvania railroad and are now being used wherever new rail is installed on the main lines under the railroad's 1947 improvement program. Each of the three types is designed to meet a specific operating condition.

Several years of research, development and experimentation went into the design and testing of the new rails, with tests conducted both in the Pennsylvania test department at Altoona, Pa., and on the railroad under actual operating conditions.

Two of the new rail designs are improvements over types which have proved their basic worthiness during hard wartime usage under record-breaking freight and passenger traffic. The third is a new intermediate design. All look very much like the rail now in service except that the metal is better utilized by means of longer sweeping curves connecting the underside of the railhead, on which the wheels run, with the "web", or vertical middle part of the rail, to give added strength. The upper portion of the web itself is thickened better to resist the forces of trains rounding curves.

Asked by Judge Braham if the club intended to ask for a liquor license, the answer was the the club members were not interested in a license.

"We do not wish to charter any more clubs and thus provide possible additional places where people can drink," said Judge Braham.

CRIME COST UP

Like the price of steak and shoes and coal, and sundry other items the cost of crime is going up. The Allegheny County Workhouse has sent a new contract to the county commissioners which calls for a payment of $1.20 per day for prisoners sent down there. This is an increase of twenty cents per day.

'Bum' Day Monday At Playground In Ward

Youngsters Look Grotesque In Their Various Costumes To Crown King, Queen Wednesday

On Monday afternoon at Mahington playgrounds, there was quite a display of typical 'bums'. They were there with patched overalls, blackened faces, and some carried their 'belongings' tied up in a handkerchief. One bum rode around the grounds in a wagon. The displays provided much amusement to those in attendance.

First prize was awarded to Joe Sparano; the second prize was captured by Frank DeFelice; Norman Cubelli, who also made a good showing, was winner of third prize. Those receiving honorable mention for their outfit were Dale Smith and Freddy Rainey.

At the grounds on Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30, it is expected a good audience will witness crowning of the 'king' and 'queen'. Betty Smith and Raymond Waskin. During the afternoon there will also be a talent show.

Will Commemorate St. Margaret's Day

On July 21, a group of citizens of the ward will sponsor an old fashioned St. Margaret's celebration, in commemoration of St. Margaret's Day.

General chairman of arrangements is Gennaro Piccaro, assisted by the following committee, Louis Colella, Ralph Cipri, Patsy Offi, Benny Nocera, Domenick Nocera.

There will be high mass, Monday morning of the 21st in St. Lucy's church, with Rev. Sebastian Ippolito and his assistants officiating.

The famous red-coat band will furnish music for the occasion, and will parade over the streets of the ward. A concert will be presented in the evening, from the band stand, which will be erected at the corner of North Liberty street and West Wabash avenue, immediately to the rear of St. Margaret's hall.

A beautiful display of fireworks will be given at 10:30 p. m., on the South Lafayette street ball grounds. Many years have elapsed since a celebration of this kind has been put on. There will be confetti, hot dogs, pop, popcorn, ice cream and all the trimmings.

TY COBB WILL FIGHT CHARGES

Declares He Will Demand Jury Trial On Charge Of Being Drunk On Highway

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(INS)—Tyrus R. "Ty" Cobb said today that he will demand a jury trial on the charges of being drunk on a public highway.

The baseball great, now a wealthy businessman, is scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis at Placerville, Cal., on July 22 to answer the charge.

Cobb spent two hours in the Placerville jail before gaining his release on $25 bail. He was arrested Saturday in a car driven by Lucile La Pointe, formerly his housekeeper. She was cited for reckless driving and fined $25.

Court officials said that no charge was placed against the "Georgia Peach" when Miss La Pointe was brought before Judge Lewis. But, they added, Cobb used his skill in badminton—which he sharpened up against umpires in his baseball days—to such effect that the judge ordered him jailed.

Reached at his estate in nearby Atherton, Cobb said:

"I'm going to fight it right through. I didn't have that coming to me."

Cobb obtained a divorce in Reno last month from his wife, Charlie after a marriage of 29 years.

Jeweler's School Enrollment Will Reach 400 By Fall

Much Activity Going On At Old Aiken School Building On Pearson Street

With an anticipated influx of 100 to 150 students in September, the New Castle Jeweler's Training School, Inc., which occupies the old Aiken school building on Pearson street, will have an enrollment of approximately 400, it is expected.

The school already boasts an enrollment of 300 students who represent some 18 to 20 states in the United States and with the September classes, it is expected that about 33 states will be represented among the student body which is made up of many veterans of the army, navy and other branches of the service.

Since the opening of the school June 3, 1946, when 33 men were enrolled, many major improvements have been made in the school building, which was erected some 91 years ago for the elementary instruction of boys and girls in the city. The entire three floors of the building and the basement are being utilized by the school. Work is progressing on two rooms at present to handle the new class in September and when these rooms are completed every available inch of space in the building will be put to use.

First Graduating Class

The first graduating class of the school is scheduled for the middle of December 1947 when a class of 50 students will leave the school to take up their unique trade of jewelry manufacturing.

Many inquiries are being received daily by the school's president, Paul J. Wald, from all over the United States and foreign countries for the services of trained jewelers. Among the student body are four young women who are learning the trade and expect to make it their life work.

The school operates Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The course given is of 18 months duration consisting of approximately two months of basic theory and practice jewelry; seven months of advance jewelry; one month of basic theory and practice engraving; five months of advanced engraving; one month of basic theory and practice stone setting; and two months advanced stone setting.

Plans are underway for a grand open house sometime in September when the public will be invited to look in on the school classes.

Edgar Candidate For Prothonotary

Present Incumbent Seeks Nomination On Republican Ticket At Primaries

JOHN A. EDGAR

John A. Edgar, in announcing his candidacy for re-election to the office of Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas, Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Clerk of the Court of Orphans, and Clerk of the Orphans' Court, states:

In many counties of Pennsylvania, these are separate offices and are administered by separate officials. Each of these has its varied and separate duties. Complete familiarity with these many details is essential for the legal and economical conduct of the office.

Lawrence County is the only Sixth Class County in the State where the duties, responsibilities and liabilities of these several offices are placed on one person.

These duties you, the taxpayers of this county, placed upon me and I have given my entire time to the administration of them.

In offering my name as a candidate for re-election, and soliciting your support, I can only promise a continuation of the service to which you have become accustomed.

Subject to the Republican primaries on September 9, 1947.

Philadelphia W.A.A. Report Shows Large Amount Of Surplus Goods Sold

PHILADELPHIA, July 15—Almost half-billion dollars' worth of Government property has been sold by the War Assets Administration in the Philadelphia region since 1941. This was the report given out by Levy Anderson, WAA regional director.

The exact total was only one dollar less than $497,250,000. It consisted of surplus materials originally valued at more than $411,349,000 and real property that cost the Government more than $85,900,000 to acquire.

Veterans of the Second World War bought about eight percent of the surplus items. They paid $14.

They were only going to walk four miles (or maybe three or four) and then they would be picked up and taken to their destination by car. Their destination was the Dixon cottage on a bluff overlooking the creek at McConnell's Mills.

After having been briefed for a week on the idea of overnight camping, they decided that Monday night was a good time to test their stamina. They carefully packed plenty of food, blankets and all other conceivable camping material, and calmly left it lying on a table at Lindy's headquarters.

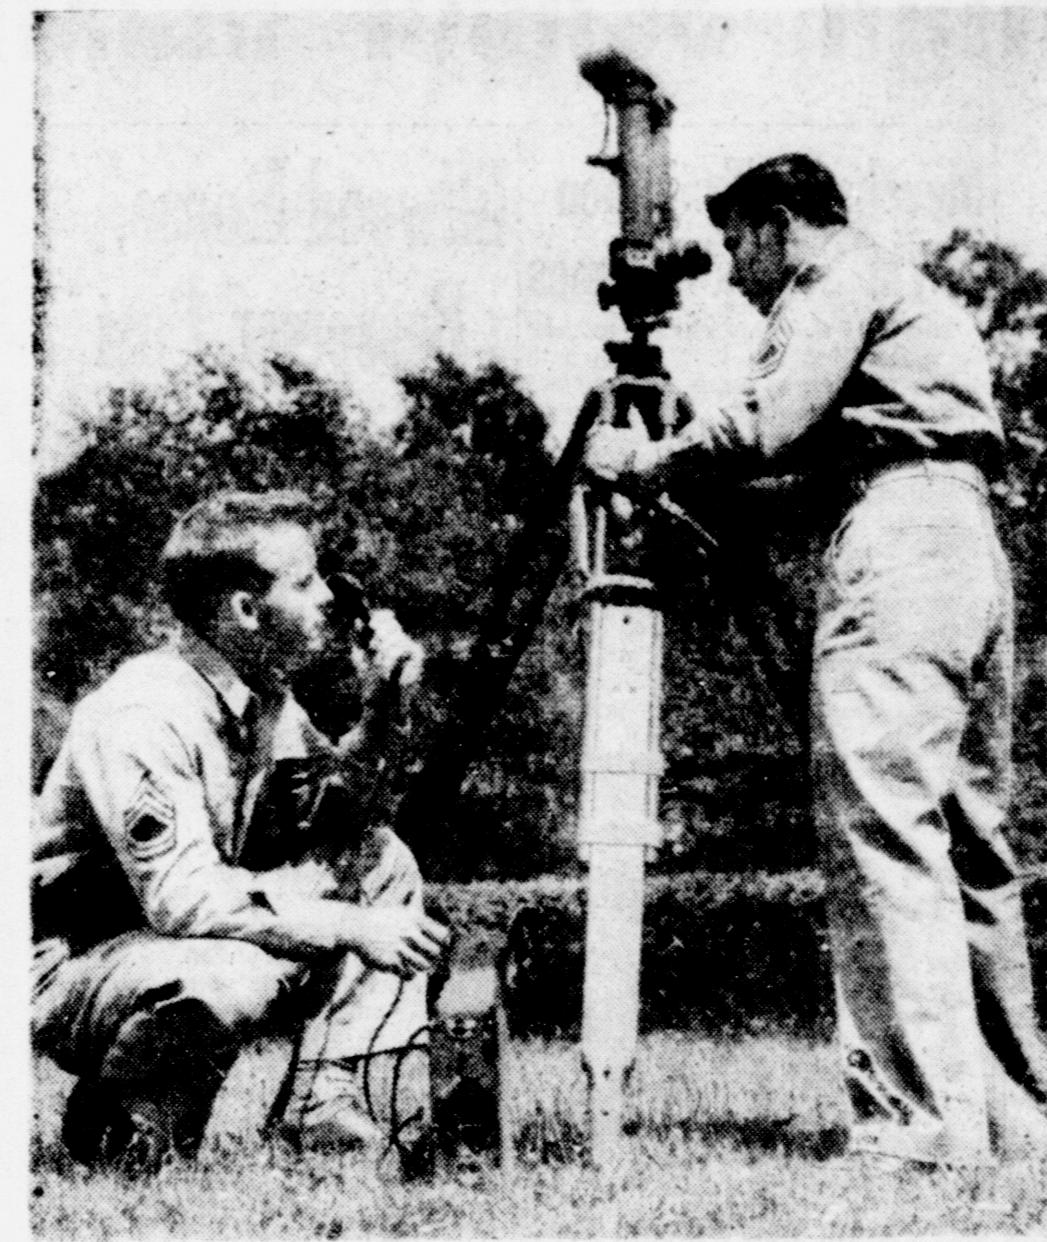

They were only going to walk four miles (or maybe three or four) and then they would be picked up and taken to their destination by car. Their destination was the Dixon cottage on a bluff overlooking the creek at McConnell's Mills.

Four counselors and six girls made the trip, and were back in time for their 11:30 swimming class on Tuesday.

But the camp was not lacking in activity. The youngest Brownie group saw to that. They call themselves the Butterflies; they are the seven and eight-year-old group.

Last Friday saw one of their most active days. Handcraft and swimming classes in the morning primed their appetites for the cook-out which they had at noon. A real feast it was too. Wieners, baked potatoes, marshmallows, milk, and fruit — and plenty of it.

They discarded their rest period after dinner, said they weren't tired. A penny hike occupied a large part of the afternoon, and they still weren't tired. So there remained the swings, teeter-totters and sliding boards which they put to good use until time to go home.

Philadelphia W.A.A. Report Shows Large Amount Of Surplus Goods Sold

PHILADELPHIA, July 15—Almost half-billion dollars' worth of Government property has been sold by the War Assets Administration in the Philadelphia region since 1941. This was the report given out by Levy Anderson, WAA regional director.

The exact total was only one dollar less than $497,250,000. It consisted of surplus materials originally valued at more than $411,349,000 and real property that cost the Government more than $85,900,000 to acquire.

Veterans of the Second World War bought about eight percent of the surplus items. They paid $14.

They were only going to walk four miles (or maybe three or four) and then they would be picked up and taken to their destination by car. Their destination was the Dixon cottage on a bluff overlooking the creek at McConnell's Mills.

After having been briefed for a week on the idea of overnight camping, they decided that Monday night was a good time to test their stamina. They carefully packed plenty of food, blankets and all other conceivable camping material, and calmly left it lying on a table at Lindy's headquarters.

They were only going to walk four miles (or maybe three or four) and then they would be picked up and taken to their destination by car. Their destination was the Dixon cottage on a bluff overlooking the creek at McConnell's Mills.

Four counselors and six girls made the trip, and were back in time for their 11:30 swimming class on Tuesday.

But the camp was not lacking in activity. The youngest Brownie group saw to that. They call themselves the Butterflies; they are the seven and eight-year-old group.

If you have excess acids in your blood, you're 15 miles of kidney tubes working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits potassium to escape from the body, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. # Lively Pitches One-Hitter As Reds Top Bums

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Cincinnati, cradle of no-hit and low-hit pitchers throughout the years, has another super-super today in Er (Bud) Lively, Birmingham rookie who held the Brooklyn Dodgers to one hit last night and beat them 9 to 1.

Lively faced only 29 batters and pitched a perfect game save for one momentary lapse in the second inning when Pee Wee Reese walked and Spud Jorgensen doubled off the scoreboard for Brooklyn's only hit and only run.

Boston's second-place Braves muffed a chance to gain on the pace-setting Dodgers in the National league race when they dropped a 5 to 3 decision to the Chicago Cubs, who snapped a nine-game losing streak. The bruisers forged ahead when Johnny Sain's pitching hand was struck by a line drive, causing him to lose his effectiveness.

Giants Beat Pirates

The New York Giants advanced to within two games of the Braves by downing Pittsburgh, 5 to 1, behind the five-hit pitching of Floppy Hartung.

Johnny Mize, current home run king of the majors, rapped his 26th homer of the season for the Giants and Bill Rigney and Sid Gordon chipped in with one circuit clout apiece.

George Munger, who has been going great guns for the Cards, especially at night, came a cropper under the arc lights at Philadelphia. He was the losing pitcher, after seven straight wins, as the Phils scored three runs in the fifth and won 5 to 2.

In the American league the St. Louis Browns scored six runs in the third inning and swamped Washington 13 to 3.

Indians Defeat

The Detroit-Athletics and Yankees-White Sox games were washed out.

Don Black, who pitched a no-hitter in his last start, hurried for the Indians and showed that his masterpiece was no fluke by handcuffing the Red Sox until the ninth inning when Bobby Doerr hit a home run with the bases empty to win a 1 to 0 thriller for Boo Ferriss.

Apostoli Scores Technical Kaya

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(INS)—Former middleweight champion Freddie Apostoli squeaked through to his 11th victory of a comeback campaign by scoring a technical kaya against Cowboy Reuben Shank of Denver.

Shank, nearly blinded by a cut over the eye, failed to come out for the ninth round of the scheduled ten-rounder in San Francisco.

Misses Chance To Speak

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 15.—(INS)—Some of Gov. James H. Duff's attaches have this anecdote to tell, typifying the chief executive's dislike for fanfare . . . The governor had been asked to address a certain convention in Harrisburg and he promised he would drop in on the meeting at a specified time enroute to his office on Capitol Hill . . . Duff walked, unaccompanied, from the Executive Mansion to the convention hall where the meeting was underway . . . There was no committee to meet him and the delegates paid no attention to him, so he quietly took a seat at the back of the room . . . The governor sat there for a half hour, unrecognized, and then was forced to leave to keep another appointment.

Something new in the way of medical miracles was pointed up in the recent establishment of a "bone bank" at the George F. Geisinger Memorial hospital at Danville . . . A private institution specializing in bone grafting . . . The Health department, which discussed the development in its monthly publication, believed it was unique in the state . . . Dr. Leonard F. Bush head of the hospital's orthopedic department, was quoted as saying the chief value of such an arrangement eliminated delay in performing delicate operations where bones must be removed from a donor and transplanted in patients . . .

The State Department of Internal Affairs has reported that St. Paul Episcopal church in Philipsburg was the first house of worship in the world to be lighted with electricity . . . The event occurred in 1881, the department said . . . The first factory in the United States to manufacture screws also was located near the Centre county community, the department added . . . The plant, constructed in 1821, had a capacity of 1000 gross of screws until 1836, when the iron forge burned.

The department said the land on which Philipsburg was built was purchased by a Manchester, England firm at an auction in Philadelphia for what was estimated to be about two cents an acre.

Joseph Giuliano, department superintendent, reports a butcher has been found who was weighing a part of his stomach with some orders. He did by hooking a large protruding button in the middle of his vest over the edge of a scale platform.

Recent investigations in Camden and Elizabeth have revealed a variety of chiseling practices, said Giuliano, who warned the buying public to be on the alert.

MARKS 104TH BIRTHDAY

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—(INS)—

"You're never too old to like the opposite sex," Mrs. Eliza Dent opined today as she marked her 104th birthday.

"No use to lie about it—I like men," she said at a Pittsburgh nursing home where she resides.

And, she added, she likes dances too, "especially polkas and schottisches."

DRUGS DISCOVERIES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—A new blood substitute to replace plasma in emergency treatments, a blood sugar catalyzer for diabetics and many new "sulfas" and vitamins are among the drugs and medicinal products which have been discovered in the secret files of the German pharmaceutical industry. The processes for the manufacture of these new drugs and full details of their war-time usage by the enemy have been brought to the United States for further study by expert pharmaceutical chemists and technicians sent by the U. S. Armed Services, the Department of Commerce, and American industry. Cecil means "blind". Not until 1871, after William H. Jackson took photographs of Yellowstone National Park, did the movement to make it a national park gain impetus. President Grant approved the park act early in 1872.
